

FAST CAR

Lyrics by Tony Barlow

TONY BARLOW

She's just finished work... and is heading down the street
With her hair blowing back... she's just drifting through the heat
He's standing on the corner... with the moonlight in his eyes
He wants to take her out dancing... all across the midnight skies
Where they'll... make love to the rhythms... of the Waves Upon the Sea
As their two bodies... become as one... through all eternity

He's heading into another bar... to get another drink
He quickly needs to get to the place... where he no longer has to think
She's standing on the dance floor... she's just drifting away
Trying not to think... of all the things she has to do... just to get through the day

When, like two holy visions... in a movie's painted scene
For a moment... they're together forever... inside their Blues Town dream
In which they... get into a fast car... and go driving across the night
Out to all those cities... that are shining in the light

Where they'll... make love to the rhythm... of the Waves Upon the Sea
As their two bodies... become as one... through all eternity

Me, I'm standing in the corner... of an old... Blues Town bar
Listening to the music... of a fading rock and roll star
When, like two holy visions... in a movie's painted scene
For a moment... we're together forever... inside his Blues Town dream

In which we... get into a fast car... and go driving across the night
Out to all those cities... that are shining... oh so bright
And as he makes love... to the rhythm... of the Waves Upon the Sea
He's bringing back... every memory... of our Blues Town history

In which we... get into a fast car... and go driving across the night
Out to all those cities... that are shining... oh so bright
And as we... make love... to the rhythm... of the Waves Upon the Sea
Our two bodies... will become as one... through all eternity
